H&K, INC. UNVEILS STRATEGIC OFFICE SPACE IN PHILADELPHIA'S NAVY YARD COMPLEX

Skippack, PA – On Thursday, September 17, 2015, Haines & Kibblehouse, Inc. \(H&K, Inc.\) held an Open House to officially unveil its newest heavy civil construction services office location within Philadelphia's dynamic Navy Yard business campus.

Members of H&K, Inc.'s Business Development, Project Management, and Estimating Teams and corporate Ownership welcomed customers, clients and other regional business executives to a wonderful evening of fine food, beverage and stimulating conversation. Guests were also treated to beautiful weather, a sleek and professional office setting and several selections from Founder and Co-Chairman, John B. Haines IV's renowned collection of stunning antique construction equipment.

H&K, Inc. set up shop at the Navy Yard earlier this spring in an effort to position the company closer to the physical work and to key customers and clients within the City of Philadelphia. Although H&K, Inc. has been a key player in the heavy civil contracting, construction and demolition services arena within the City of Philadelphia for nearly 50 years, the company has managed all city contracting and construction projects from its suburban office location in Skippack, PA until this spring.

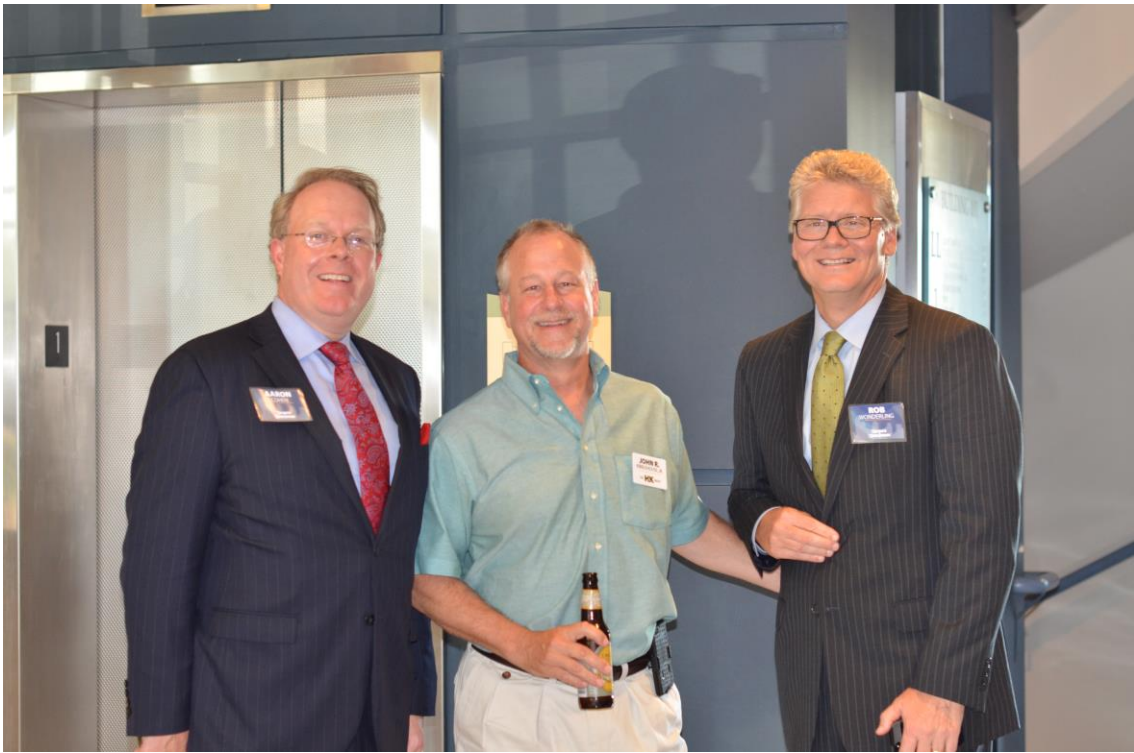

Speaking of this recent move to establish a contracting office within the City of Philadelphia, Tommy Letwinch, Director of Business for H&K Group, Inc. stated, "This new and exciting office location will embed our Business Development, Estimating and Project Management staff exactly where they're needed, within the city's exciting business footprint. The Navy Yard campus provides this opportunity and will position H&K, Inc. to take full advantage of the exciting redevelopment and growth potential that lies ahead for the city."
